

TriState Capital Non-Purpose Lending Solutions Frequently Asked Questions

What is a Non-Purpose Line of Credit?

Non-Purpose Lines of Credit (NPL) allow clients to use their investment accounts as collateral for a variable or fixed rate line of credit. Proceeds from the credit facility can be used for a number of short-term or long-term financing needs such as real estate acquisitions, luxury item purchases, business investments, debt refinancing, short term cash needs or bridge facilities and general liquidity for personal or business expenses. The proceeds cannot be used to purchase securities.

What are the advantages of a Non-Purpose Loan?

A Non-Purpose Loan offers very competitive pricing and access to liquidity. The client can utilize multiple investment accounts as collateral. The borrower and the pledgor of the loan collateral can be different parties and there are no fees associated with the loan.

What types of accounts can be pledged as collateral?

Any non-qualified account including equity, fixed income, as well as cash & cash equivalents.

What are the benefits to an advisor?

TriState Capital's standard collateral control agreement allows for trading of liquid marketable securities within your client's account. Also, NPLs offer access to liquidity without the need to sell securities, thus enabling you to maintain your client's assets.

When do Non-Purpose Lines of Credit mature?

These are demand loans with no maturity date.

What are the typical Non-Purpose Line of Credit advance rates?

A client can typically borrow between 50% and 60% of a diversified investment account portfolio, with a default rate of 70%.

How are monthly interest payments made?

Interest payments can be made via ACH from the client's bank deposit account on the 15th of each month.

Will the client receive a monthly statement?

Clients will receive monthly statements directly from TriState Capital that will show the current loan advance and payment activity, as well as their current outstanding balance. A client can also register to view their account online.

What if a client is interested in a Non-Purpose Line of Credit but currently has a margin loan in place against the investment account?

The margin loan must be paid off and closed. No margin loan capabilities can be allowed.

How can loan principal be repaid?

Loan principal can be repaid at any time in any amount via wire transfer, ACH or check. There are no prepayment penalties.
